

Clause « Piracy, capture and molestation by pirates »

Clause N° CE104 – of the Royal Belgian Association of Marine Insurers dated 29/11/2012

Free and non-committal translation – in case of dispute regarding the interpretation of the wording, the Dutch and/or French version prevail

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary stated in the rates/premium applicable to the insurance contract into which this clause is incorporated, it is agreed that in the event of a transit to or from or through or within the geographical areas as listed as “ High” or “Severe” in the Global Cargo Watch List (GCWL) such transits are held covered at any time.

The Assured is obliged, as soon as he has knowledge hereof, to advise insurers in view of an agreement regarding premium rates and if need be terms and conditions to be further agreed upon.

This clause only applies to the risks of piracy, capture and molestation by pirates .

1. The use of this condition is strictly reserved for insurance agreements underwritten by effective members of the ABAM.
2. The use of this condition is however not mandatory nor recommended; the use of other conditions remains free.
3. No variation on this condition can refer to the ABAM.
